ELECTION FOR STATE OFFICERS NEXT TUESDAY

Democratic Landslide Predicted By Party Leaders

ALL URGED TO VOTE

Local Candidates For Office Will Prove Easy Winners—Trinkle Will Carry City By Big Majority.

Next Tuesday will be election day. A governor and other state officers will be elected. The campaign here has excited but little interest, although both State Senator E. Lee Trinkle, democratic nominee for governor, and Col. Henry W. Anderson, the republican nominee for governor, have been here and addressed gatherings. The democrats are urged by their party to vote early election morning and they also urge all to vote that day. The polls will open at sunrise and close at sunset.

Every voter should do his duty Tuesday as the city democratic committee is anxious that a full vote be polled.

As far as Alexandria is concerned there is no doubt but that a very large majority will be rolled up for the party nominee, E. Lee Trinkle, The local democrat candidates for office who have opposition also will have a clean sweep in the election. The voting will be at the usual places where voting has been done in the past.

Election day is a legal holiday to Virginia and the banks and city offices will be closed Tuesday.

F. D. Moore was elected chairman of the city electoral board and to fill the vacancy caused by the death of E. E. Downham and Richard E. Sweeney was re-elected secretary of the board at a meeting held last night at the offices of Demaine and Son. Judges and clerks chosen by the board to serve in the election to be held Tuesday follow: First ward —Charles Sherwood, T. A. Moore, David W. Robey judges; Lewis Poss and Scott Grimm, clerks.

Dies From Wounds

Charles Ferris, Colored, Was Shot October 28, Elmer Ferris' Death Expected

Charles Ferris, colored, twenty-one years old, who was shot last Friday, morning, October 28, by Walter Johnson, colored, died at 7 o'clock last night at the Alexandria Hospital. The body was taken to Demaine's Chapel and prepared for burial.

The shooting took place on Pitt street between Wilkes and Gibbon streets. At the time Elmer Ferris, brother of the dead man, also was shot. Both men received bullets in the abdomen. At the hospital today it was stated that no hope was held out for the recovery of Elmer Ferris and his death also is momentarily expected.

During the progress of the shooting William Johnson colored, brother of the man charged by the police with the shooting, also was shot in the leg. He is rapidly recovering from his wounds.

Immediately after the shooting the police captured Walter Johnson as he was crossing Hunting Creek bridge and obtained the revolver with which it is alleged the shooting was done.

A preliminary investigation of this case was held the afternoon of the shooting and Walter Johnson was held for the action of the grand jury. Ferris is a native of Madison county, Va.

Dr. T. M. Jones at 7:30 o'clock tonight will hold a coroner's inquest at Demaine's chapel over the body of Ferris.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 5.—It is not believed in official circles that the assassination of Premier Hara of Japan will have any effect upon the deliberations of the conference on the limitation of armaments in so far as they pertain to the policies of the Japanese government. The Japanese delegates to the arms conference, while nominally selected by the late Premier, were chosen more on account of their particular merits to deal with various problems to come before the gathering which starts on November 12. While the assassination of the Japanese Premier is regretted in official circles, it will not have a tendency to delay consideration of the problems affecting the Far Eastern questions which are to be brought up and threshed out before the members of the conference. Outside of Far Eastern matters, Jaan has no particular interest in the arms conference and the untimely end of Premier Hara will not change the situation in any respect.

When Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, regarded by General Pershing as the greatest hero of the World War called to pay his respects to President Harding yesterday he was evidently very much perplexed. While he exhibited rare courage, daring and unusual heroism in cleaning out German machine nests, fighting with a pick when his ammunition was exhausted, his ordeal at the White House got the better of him. He evinced the typical soldier that he is and clearly demonstrated that he wants nothing of the fuss and feathers that goes with the visit to the Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy. Of course, Woodfill was congratulated by the President for his acts of daring and heroism. But the only comment the sergeant would make upon leaving the Executive office was:

"I found the President a very busy man."

Declaring that the reputation of the army is at stake, Secretary of War Weeks stated today that he would ask Congress to carry on the fullest investigation into the charges made by Senator Watson, of Georgia that American soldiers in France were hanged on the gallows without so much as a trial.

"Either the charges of Senator Watson are true or they are not true," said Secretary Weeks. "I shall do everything in my power to assist any committee of Congress in bringing out the real facts in order that the good name of the army and its work in the World War may not remain under the stigma placed upon it by the charges of the Georgia Senator."

Royal A. Haynes, U. S. Prohibition Commissioner, is about to submit an estimate of $10,000,000 to Director of the Budget Dawes for the purpose of maintaining the prohibition unit during the next fiscal year. The appropriation for the current year is $7,500,000.

"We could use $50,000,000 if the government would give it to use," declared Haynes today.

In view of the fact that General Dawes has served notice upon all government officials to cut all estimates to the bone, it is very doubtful if the appropriationfor the Prohibition office for next year will be increased to the extent submitted by Haynes. If the government was getting any returns from the operations of the prohibition enforcement officers the situation would be quite different. But as matters now stand everything is going out and nothing coming in, in so far as the management of that particular branch of Uncle Sam's work is concerned.

The Argentine Republic has made arrangements with American bankers to borrow $10,000,000 in this coun try to be expended in the purchase of railway equipment of all kind to be used on the transportation systems of that country. Most of the money will be loaned by New York bankers.

This information was contained in a message received by the Department of Commerce today from American Consular Agent Feely at Buenos Aires. Some 75 new locomotives are to be purchased by Argentine from the American Locomotive Works, while other rail equipment companies in the United States will receive a proportionate share of orders as a result of the advance to be made to the South American Republic.

A great number of government clerks who temporarily reside in Washington, but who still hold their voting residences in Virginia, will go home to vote in the Gubernatorial election on Tuesday next. This applies to Republicans as well as Democrats.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Young White Man Held For Grand Jury on Complaint of Woman—Gives $2500 Bond

Following a preliminary hearing this mornng before Mayor Duncan in the police court a young white man arrested by Sergt. Campbell and Policeman Welker on a charge of an alleged attack preferred by a young white woman was held for the action of the grand jury. The plaintiff told the court that she was followed from Armory Hall last night and accosted by the man whom she knew, and when she reached Wolfe street between Washington and St. Asaph streets, where there is an alley, the alleged attack occurred. She told the court that the accused told her that it would not be good for her if she said anything. The young woman sobbed as she told the story of the alleged attck to the court.

According to the complainant she left Armory Hall at 10 o'clock last night and about fifteen minutes afterward the attack occurred.

The accused man brought witnesses who testified that he at the time of the alleged attack was at the Armory and which place he remained till 10:20 o'clock. The accused man furnished a bail bond in the sum of $2500.

SEEKS TO BREAK WILL

A special jury has been summoned for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the circuit court when the suit of Mrs. Mittie V. Adams and others to break the will of the late Louis M. Adams will be heard. Judge S. G. Brent will preside. This case has been heard once and the jury was unable to reach an agreement.

IN YOUR TOWN

The Red Cross in our town. It came when the loftiest sentiment of our people rallied under its emblem to lessen the suffering of the cruel war. It remained because our responsibilities did not cease when the Armistice was signed.

It is still here, because our duty to the world so largely accomplished, we cannot ignore the suffering of our own people—the preventable disease —the preventable poverty and the preventable dullness and stupidity of life with which we are brought into daily contact.

How can you give expression to the best impulses of your community life? What can be done to make yours a healthier, a happier and a more prosperous people? Why can this be done better, perhaps, at this time, with the co-operation of the American Red Cross?

Consider yourself sitting in conference at a Chapter Executive Committee Meeting, at which you are discussing the health and the social problems of your community, and what the Red Cross can do to solve them.

After all, when you think of your community, you do not just think of its history and romance, its name and boundaries, its buildings and roads, but of its people who, with you, have made and are making the community what it is. The health of your community must be judged by the relative number of well people and of sick people at any one time, by the number who die from diseases that might be prevented. The prosperity of your community is not indicated merely by the smoke from your factory chimneys or by your threshing machines. but by the habits of industry or of indolence, by the resourcefulness or the shiftlessness, by the wealth or the poverty of your people. The intelligence of your community is engaged, in part by the kind of education you provide for your children, by the extent of your civic and social organizations, by the treatment you give your poor, your feeble-minded, epileptics and insane, and your youthful and adult offenders. The civic pride of your people is reflected by your private homes and public buildings, by your sidewalks, your streets and roads, by your sewage and drainage systems, your garbage disposal, your dumps, and your privies, by your trees, flowers and shrubbery, by your parks and playgrounds, by your flies and mosquitoes, by the presence or absence of slum conditions.

No doubt, you have reason to be gratified with many things that your community is doing and has done. But what could be improved upon? What is being left undone? How many and who are the victims of this oversight, and what will be the ultimate consequences to your community? Whose concern is it? To whom does the community look for information, guidance and leadership? Is our Red Cross Chapter able to undertake this work? If so, our Chapter is charged with a grave responsibility which it cannot lightly cast aside—a golden opportunity to develop that which is noblest and best in our community life.

DO YOU KNOW THAT FOR THE VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IS PROVIDING SERVICE COSTING $10,000,000 A YEAR. THIS IS MORE THAN ALL THE MEMBERSHIP FEES PAID TO THE RED CROSS DURING THE THE LAST ROLL CALL.

Your Membership Dollar will help to keep this work going until the need is over.

PLANS OF U. S. FOR NAVY CUT AGREED UPON

Will Propose That Sea Forces Be Limited to Necessary Strength

CAPITAL SHIPS UNIT

Suggested Program Would Give United States Big Margin Over Japan.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The American proposals for the limitation of navy armaments by the big powers were completed today and will be submitted to the delegates from Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy as soon as the International Conference gets under way.

Under the plan worked out by the Navy Department and approved by the American delegation, the great naval powers are to agree to halt competitive building of battle craft and keep their navies within limits strictly defined in the agreement, limits deemed ample for purely defensive purposes.

The capital ship is taken as the unit of naval strength in the American plan. Each party to the compact would maintain not more than the number of capital ships fixed in the agreement, and would construct no additional capital ships except to replace those obsolete vessels actually scrapped.

Each nation would be permitted to maintain not more than a fixed proportion of destroyers, submarines and other subsidiary ships. Limitation of the number of naval airplanes is recognized as difficult problem, because of the ease of evasion of an agreement in this particular. Airplanes constructed in large numbers ostensibly for commercial purposes would be instantly available for war uses.

Under the American plan practically a parity of the British and American navies would be established, with a wide gap between their strength and that of Japan. This would mean the abandonment of considerable naval construction already provided for by all three nations. The American Navy is now nearly equal in strength to the British and would be stronger than the British in first class capital ships and gunpower upon completion of the present American building program.

The British Government is known to be in favor of an agreement which would produce a parity of the British and American navies.

There are certain conditions on which the United States would be willing to agree not to fortify the Philippines and Guam in return for the pledge of Japan not to fortify outlying islands in the Pacific. This would be deemed a safe procedure if the Anglo-Japanese alliance were abrogated, for reasons that may become clearer before long.

DR. FREEMAN SPEAKS

Others Make Addresses At Dinner At St. Paul's Last Night

At the dinner given by Dr. Klipstein to the Men's Bible Classes and the men of St. Paul's Church last night, addresses were made by Dr. James E. Freeman, of Washington, Dr. Klipstein, Rev. P. F. Hall, U. S. Lambert, Dennis Whittle, M. L. Horner, Kirk Wallace, and Rev. Dr. Wallis. Dr. Freeman warned that beneath all seeming calm and prosperity in our country there lies hidden the alarming threatenings of social unrest with possibilities as terrible as the evils that overran Europe in the last few years. The only solution and safeguards are to be found, he said, in the Christian religion, applied in a vital manner to all departments of life. He urged with characteristc intensity every man therefore to take the church and its activities seriously and not to sidestep he responsibility. Rev. Mr. Hall asserted that the alleged desire of all is that St. Paul's shall go forward, and insisted that it can only progress if every man does something more than he has done hitherto. Votes of thanks were given Dr. Klipstein and to the ladies who served the dinner.

CITY BUYS BONDS

Purchase $32,000 Fours For $29,736.30

The commissioners of the sinking fund yesterday purchased $32,000 four per cent bonds as per public notice. For these bonds the city paid $29,736.30 which is about $92.30. It is stated that bonds bearing four per cent interest as a rule are offered for and selling around 85. Persons holding Alexandria fours offered them at a higher rate. The bids were 90, 92, 93 1-2.

It will be recalled that 99 was offered for the new issue of $300,000 last August as it was expressed by the bidders to bear the expenses of printing, etc. This is to some extent showing a confidence in the conservative administration of those charged with our fiscal affairs.

The Blue Bus line, this morning, received a new northway bus for use in passenger service. This bus has a capacity of thirty-six passengers, and is finished in leather.

STATE NEWS

Charlottesville—In the presence of a large assemblage, including the sculptor, Robert L. Aitken, of New York, the bronze group commemorating the conquest of the Northwest Territory by George Rogers Clark and his Virginians, was unveiled here Thursday.

The monument is the third gift of the kind by Paul Goodloe McIntire, the first being the Lewis and Clark group, by Keck, and the second the equestrian statue of "Stonewall" Jackson, by the same artist, which was inaugurated two weeks ago.

Farmville—John P. Flanagan, of Richmond, spoke in the Farmville Courthouse on Wednesday night, Nov. 2, to an audience of about sixty people. His address was in interest of Colonel Anderson and the Republican party. Mr. Flanagan argued his side in a very able manner, though it would seem as if the interest here in the Republican candidate is waning considerably as election day nears, judging from the marked decrease of attendance at his speech here on Wednesday and the overflow audience which greeted Senator E. Lee Trinkle on a like occasion on last Friday night.

Wytheville—Senator E. Lee Trinkle, democratic nominee for governor of Virginia, was a member of a box party at a matinee at a Washington theatre with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Wednesday afternoon. Senator Trinkle also dined with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Wednesday. Senator Trinkle and Mrs. Wilson, who was Edith Bolling, of Wythville, have been friends since their childhood days.

Senator Trinkle left Washington Wednesday night and arrived here Thursday morning. He also spoke in Pulaski Friday night.

Richmond—Boards of supervisors of Virginia counties have authority to prevent hunters from carring game out of their respective boundaries if they so desire. it was announced today at the office of the State Game Commissioner. A ruling of that effect grew out of a contention in Bedford county where the local authorities objected to game killed in the county being carrid out of the county.

Richmond—A mysterious leak from the commissary department of state penitentiary, through which perhaps thousands of dollars worth of state merchandise passed, was recently stopped and the "inside" culprit George Elliott, a negro trusty, sentenced from Roanoke, brought to task as a result of activities of City Detectives A. A. McDonald. "Cy" Garland and W. W. Withers.

Richmond—Furious barking of a watch dog resulted in the saving of Mrs. "Eddie" Jones and her several children last night about midnight after their home at Brokenburg, Spotsylvania county, had been set afire, supposedly by a member of a gand of bootleggers, who are believed to have suspected her husband of informing on moonshiners about the illicit sale of liquor, according to the county authorities.

Mrs. Jones was aroused by the dog's loud barking. Discovering that her home was afire, she called her children and as the occupants of the house emerged from the building they heard a person running away from the scene.

Staunton—James Terrell, 45, died as a result of burns received when he fell into a "leaching" vat twelve feet deep at the Gardner Extract Works, in Basic. He was alone in his section of the plant when he fell into the hot water and before help responded to his cries he had been scalded so badly that death resulted. He leaves his wife and four children.

Farmville—"Individualism in rural life has got to give away to co-operation," said Governor Westmoreland Davis in a memorable address here last night at the opening meeting of the second rural life conference which continue through Sunday.

MASONS HOLD CELEBRATION IN ELKS' HALL

Anniversary of George Washington's Initiation Into Mysteries

SPEAKERS OF NOTE

All Masonic Lodges in District Send Representatives to Joint Celebration.

What is probably the most important historical event in the history of Masonry in America—the anniversary of the initiation into the mysteries of Freemasonry of George Washington—was celebrated last night in the lodgeroom of the Elks' Home. This event, which occurred in Fredericksburg, Va., 169 years ago yesterday, has long been celebrated by Alexandria-Washington Lodge, of which Washington was the first Worshipful Master, but the celebration last night was conducted jointly by Washington and Andrew-Jackson Lodges for the first time.

Invitations had been extended to all Masonic Lodges in this district to send representatives, and the following accepted: Columbia No. 258, Clarendon; Acacia No. 6, Clifton; Henry No. 57, Fairfax Courthouse; Kemper No. 64, Falls Church; Herndon, No. 264; Herndon; Concord No. 307, Vienna; Sharon, No. 327; McLean; Hamilton No. 37, Hamilton; Salem No. 81, Philmont; Olive Branch No. 114, Leesburg; Freedom No. 118, Lovettsville; Thompson No. 145, Round Hill; Ashburn, No. 288, Ashburn; Manassas No. 182, Manassas; Occoquan, No. 310, Occoquan, and Drinkard No. 313, Haymarket.

Prior to the lodge meeting, the visitors were taken to the Masonic Temple, where the relics of George Washington and Lafayette are kept, and a lecture on the relics and their historical value delivered by Tiler George W. Zachary.

The lodge meeting was presided over jointly by Worshipful Master Percy E. Clift, of Alexandria-Washington Lodge and Worshipful Master F. M. Penn, of Andrew Jackson Lodge. The speakers of the evening were introduced by Samuel W. Pitts, past master of Washington Lodge.

Charles H. Callahan, grand senior warden of Masons in Virginia, representing the grand master, who was unable to attend, delivered a most interesting and instructive speech. He was followd by U. S. Senator Thomas W. Heflin, of Alabama, who is well known in Alexandria, having been the guest of Washington Lodge on more than one occasion. His speech was a combination of rare humor and dignified eloquence. U. S. Senator "Pat" Harrison, of Mississippi, amply illustrated the claim that Southern oratory is far from being a thing of the past. Past Grand Master L. A. Waters, of Pennsylvania, Representative Richard E. Bird, of Kansas, Representative Dunbar, of Indiana, and Representative Underhill, of Massachusetts, delivered addresses appropriate to the occasion, and all in the most happy vein.

The celebration was one of the most impressive and interesting ever held in Alexandria, and the committee on arrangements received many congratulations on the successful program.

"Forget It"

(Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin)

Tomorrow will be a new day. It should hold much of joy and service for each of us. Let us enter into the spirit of love and praise. Let us forget the injuries, prejudices and passions of today. Forget your worries and cares and take up the new life of tomorrow with hope and faith. Leave behind your frown and greet the morning with a smile. Forgive your neighbor, and speak kindly to your brother. You have learned that many of your burdens to day were imaginary, and if you must begin the day with real ones, let the Lord carry them for you.

CHAIRMAN HULL

The new chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Cordell Hull, is a happy selection. Mr. Hull is well-known to the Democratic Party, and possesses the confidence of the rank and file to a marked degree. He strikes a sympathetic note in his pronouncement to make his committee a "most militant and efficient organization." With the Republican record of achievement in Congress so far, bad and growing worse, the Democrats stand a most encouraging chance in 1924, of reversing the vote of 1920.

We believe chairman Hull to be the right man in the right place and bespeak for him the cordial support of Democrats all over the country.

TWO MINUTES SILENCE

The request in the proclamation of the President, calling on the nation to observe the burial of the unknown soldier on Armistice Day, by pausing for a period of two minutes at noon, should be universally heeded. We hope it will be generally observed in Alexandria, and shall certainly dedicate the two minutes in this office to the memory of the brave lad who typified American patriotism by his heroic death; and whose funeral rites commemorate the thousands of gallant young Americans whose crimson life-blood tinged the fair lilies of France to a darker hue. At 12 o'clock, noon, on Friday, the eleventh, wherever we may be, whatever may be our duties, let us bow our heads in silence as a reverent tribute to those who died on foreign soil that the world might be free.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL

We observe with pleasure a leading editorial of the "Last Lap," the monthly publication of our High School, edited and conducted entirely by the pupils. It is entitled "The Condition of Our High School" and its cheery note of optimism is refreshing. It comments on all sorts of good things that have happened to the High School, and at the same time points out still further improvements that could be easily made. If you are not a subscriber to the "Last Lap," already, take our advice and subscribe. Its editorials, its reading matter, and its advertisements, too, are all worthy of perusal. In fraternal mood we commend it and wish it all success.

The Surgeon General of the Army

During the past year the American Red Cross has conducted its work in and for the Army on an exceptionally high plane of efficiency. That there has been no let-up observed in the interest and enthusiasm displayed by its representatives who are carrying on this important work, despite the fact that the glamour of a war-time stimulus has been removed, is a source of extreme gratification to all concerned.

Every station, hospital, and other unit of the Army has been benefited by this helpful and uplifting agency.

The Red Cross remains one of our most important assets in furthering the mental, moral, and physical development of our peace-time soldier. In my opinion it would be a great mistake to permit any curtailment of its present activities in the Army.

In appreciative recognition of its splendid achievements in the past, and the incalculable good that it can do in the future for the personnel of the Army alone, I urge upon every member who has been affiliated with the Red Cross during or since the war to keep alive his or her active membership therein and in addition to vigorously support the campaign for new members which is being announced in this issue of the Roll Call.

ABOUT THE HOUSE
by R. S.

A flashlight has long been an indispensable article with the men about the house; but the womenfolk too, will find this little invention just as handy. For searching in dark closets where a match or lamp would be hazardous, for peering into cubby-holes, trunks, and out of the way nooks. Tucked under the pillow at night, this little light will be on the job every minute to locate that cough medicine, cold ointment, and other necessary things so apt to get away from us in the dark. Once tried it will be found a thousand times handier than hunting in the night for the push button, or feeling for a match to light the gas.

A roll of wide tape, either cotton or linen will be found a great addition to the work basket for mending. Instead of cutting strips from new material, tape will always be ready for reinforcing seams, for backing lengthwise tears, strengthening buttonholes in children's under garments and in a hundred other different ways.

What woman does not want her home to look as charming and attractive as possible. And what can impart this atmosphere to even the most humble home better than flowers. Just now the shops are putting out various kinds of bulbs for planting in gravel and water, and as half the pleasure of a flower is in watching it grow, these will be a source of delight until the glorious bloom bursts into fragrant beauty.

Not long ago, there was placed in my hands a little volume which I have found of more than passing interest. The title is "Choice Cookery," the author, Catherine Owen, and it was published in 1889.

The glorious hunting season calls to view triumphs of the housekeeper's skill with game and methods of dressing and presenting it in the most attractive and savory manner possible. A man is prouder of his wife's culinary success with wild game than with any other variety of food. An inheritance, perhaps, of cave-man days. I turned the pages of my old book to see how the author of olden days served game, and found two wonderful methods for preparing quail, or partridge, I believe, they are called in the southern states.

Quails a la Lucullus.

After explaining, or warning, perhaps, that this is the most expensive and luxurious method of serving these dainty birds, as the name implies, the recipe follows:

Bone very carefully six or eight quails. Cut up three ounces of unsmoked bacon, put into a saute pan, let it cook five minutes, then add the livers of two or three chickens, a shallot sliced, a small bouquet, twelve white peppercorns, six cloves, a saltspoon of salt. Let all cook carefully ten minutes; nothing must get very brown. When cooked, pound well in a mortar, pass through a sieve, then add 3 truffles chopped; stuff each quail into shape, butter some paper cases known as "quail cases", put a quail into each case, a few drops of olive oil on each breast. Then put them in a quick oven for ten minutes or a quarter of an hour. For the gravy, put the bones of the quails in a stewpan, add a table spoonful of glaze and a gill of brown sauce, with one tablespoonful of water. Simmer till the gravy is well flavored from the

Knights Of Columbus

The reception given Marshal Foch at St. Louis by the Knights of Columbus no doubt recalled to many minds the time when the noted French soldier intermingled with his Brother Knights at the historic city of Metz on the occasion of the presentation of the Lafayette state by the Knights of Columbus Pilgrims to France. Alexandrians were honored last Saturday afternoon when Marshal Foch passed through our city enroute to Mount Vernon, where he placed a wreath upon the tomb of Washington. Marshal Foch will return soon to Washington, and no doubt it will be the good fortune of many Alexandrians to get a glimpse, and maybe a handshake, of the valiant hero that turned the tide of the World War and made possible the brilliant victory of the Allied Army.

The Knights of Columbus, in unison with Alexandrians in general, were shocked to hear of the brutal attack last Tuesday evening upon the beloved chaplain of our council. Father Smet this morning was feeling somewhat better, and it is the sincere hope of Fitzgerald Council that his recovery may be speedy. Father Smet, gentle ambassador of Christ, displayed an unusual amount of pluck when he struggled with his assailant who had odds on him and it goes without saying that had the struggle been a man to man one, the burglar would never have had the pleasure of escaping.

Wednesday evening the council goes to Falls Church to hold its regular monthly meeting. Last spring the attendance was a large one, and it is to be hoped that an equally large number will go on this occasion.

The club rooms are becoming more and more popular. The pool table is in full swing every evening, and the victrola and reading rooms are providng ther full measure of attraction.

Bunions, callouses and corns, flat foot, turning ankles, cramped or overlapped toes—all these endanger your whole physical condition

(1) Bunions and corns make normal walking and standing impossible and, if neglected, contribute much toward the wear and tear on one's whole physical make-up

(2) Flat foot can make weaklings of even the strongest men and women

(3) Weak, turning ankles, an indication of weak arch, weaken the whole movement of the legs and body

(4) Overlapped or cramped toes strain the muscles from toe to thigh and noticeably affect the nervous system

FARMOGRAMS

(By "The Drifter.")

Dear friend Farmer:

You hear each day that now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party, also now is the time for all good farmers to come to the aid of their farms. Yes, I mean you, Mr. Farmer Reader. Now is the time for you to make your plans for the coming year—plans for a more systematic order on the farm, another implement of the latest model to cut down that extra dollar that might as well go to the bank account.

Each week will find a column or more if the occasion demands devoted to farm news of Northern Virginia. The Drifter is a farmer and livestock breeder by profession and wants to have real get-together crowd in his Farmogram section of the Gazette. He extends to the Farmers, Dairymen, Poultrymen, Stock-raisers, Truckers, and in fact every one interested in rural life send in the news of interest. Let us make this page and this column a real rural page. The Drifter proposes to do his part to make this a page of interest to you and for you. Will you meet him halfway? I know you will, so it is with confidence that I shall endeavor to make this a page of interest to you.

Yours for the Farm,
"The Drifter."

The farmers of Prince William and Loudoun are not to be deterred by the dry weather or hard ground. It is not an unfamiliar sight to see a tractor breaking land and the disc and cutlipacker putting it in order for seeding. While it must be admitted that this is a problem under the drought conditions, yet it displays the right kind of "PEP" for real success. The spirit that has placed America on the map as a world power is being shown this fall among the farmers in the drought-stricken sections. Come on, Buddies, let's win our objective.

Mr. W. W. Claggett of Pohick reports a very good crop of corn, considering the extended dry weather. He states that his yield is about twenty-five per cent better than he expected.

The Vocational School Farm of Camp A. A. Humphreys is building up a fine herd of purebred Jerseys. A modern dairy barn is under construction, which will enable soldiers taking the Agricultural Course to receive their instruction in this line along lines of the most modern and up-to-date type. The Dairy section supplies a part of the milk consumed in the Camp, and hopes to eventually furnish the entire supply.

Even the grunt is recorded by a herd of pure bred Berkshires. This herd is representative of breeders from California to Pennsylvania and offers some excellent breeding and exhibition types. It is hoped by the Camp School Authorities to supply a fair proportion of the pork used in the camp from this department. Students are instructed in breeding and recording, feeding, killing and marketing. The Drifter has one comment, that it might be well to make here, namely, just a little more thoroughness.

Pure-strain White Leghorns are an outstanding feature of the Poultry Department. A number of incubators of different makes and types have been purchased and are operated entirely by soldier operatives. Eggs more than a market fowl will be the line of endeavor in this section. A laying house and a brooder pen of the Cornell design have been erected and others will be built in the near future.

Not so much can be said of the field crops division, since a very unsightly view greets the eye of the passers-by who see a large field of corn unharvested. While it is stated that the corn will be husked in the field and the stalks and fodder turned under, the Drifter feels called upon to say that this is a poor display of economy by a government agency. First, it is not teaching the student to save feed, second, the low fertilization value does not warrant the added work required to put the field in order for another crop.

Mr. Frank Ruffner of Occoquan is feeding his friends on some fine radishes this week. The radishes are exceptionally large, well-shaped and firm and of first quality. Perhaps Mr.

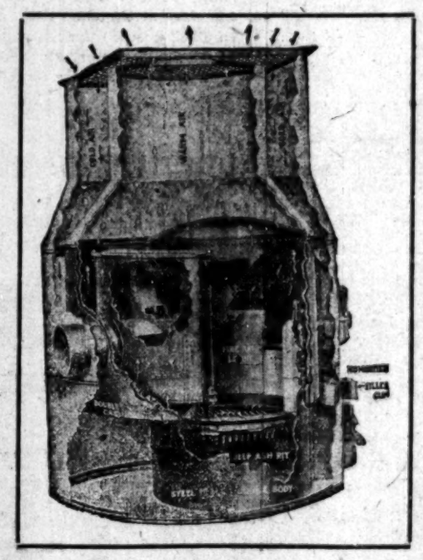
"There's a Blizzard on the Way"

SOME morning this winter your family will face that reality. Will you be ready for it? Don't forget the dangers and discomforts of last winter. Don't put off the selection of a new heating plant for your home too long. Don't go through another winter without the cozy comfort of "QUAKER" Heat.



Now is the best time to prepare your house for the damp, chill winds and the cold days that are sure to come. If you install a QUAKER FURNACE now, you'll not mind the time when "there's a blizzard on the way" because

"Quaker" Heat is Quicker Heat

"The Pipeless Furnace That's Built of Steel"

The Quaker Furnace is built of steel, which radiates heat three times as fast as cast iron. Yet the Quaker holds the heat longer because the firepot is lined with FIRE BRICK like the crucible of a blast furnace.

Quaker Heat is cleaner heat, too. The joints are riveted like a boiler. No cement to crack and crumble. Soot, ashes, dust and dirt positively cannot leak through. The hotter the furnace gets the tighter the joints become.

OTHER IMPORTANT FEATURES

The Quaker has an extra large water pan (with handy outside filler) which keeps the air moist and healthful. The firepot can't crack. The combustion chamber is extra large. The special hot blast saves fuel. Doors are ground EXACTLY to give perfect air-tight fit. Free catalog tells all about these and other Quaker improvements Send for it today.

Quaker Steel Pipeless Furnaces are easily installed in old or new homes. Only one register required. Made with 18, 22, 26, and 28 inch firepots. Delivered quickly from nearest wearhouse. Send for free catalog.

Social Happenings

This week has witnessed short visits of recent brides back from their honeymoons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harrison Saunders spent several days during the week with Mrs. Saunder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hopkins, in North Washington street, after a wedding trip through the north, including Boston, Newport and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are now in Richmond where they have taken an apartment and will make their home.

Ensign Ferguson Bryan, U. S. N., and Mrs. Bryan, were also recent visitors after a honeymoon spent in the north. They divided their visit in this city between Ensign Bryan's parents, Captain and Mrs. Albert Bryan in Prince street, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellet Cabell, in South St. Asaph street, parents of the bride. Ensign and Mrs. Bryan left yesterday for Charleston, S. C., where the former is stationed.

Mrs. Herbert Carter, of Spring Valley, Fairfax County, is visiting Mrs. Gray, at Fortress Monroe, while Miss Eliza Douglas is the guest of Mrs. Marvel H. Parsons, also of Fortress Monroe.

Miss Margery Hall, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Percy Foster Hall, and an attractive addition to the younger set of Alexandria, attended the luncheon of the Alumnae of Miss Eastman's School on Wednesday in Washington, D. C. Miss Hall graduated from Miss Eastman's last year.

Miss Collins Jones has returned from a visit to Baltimore where she went for the luncheon in honor of Miss Elizabeth Hull, one of this year's list of Baltimore debutantes.

Very interesting happenings on Sunday evening are the Young People's Meetings at St. Paul's Church These meetings are similar to those held at Epiphany Church, Washington, D. C., and are followed by a light supper by a committee of which Miss Nina Fulton is chairman. A good number of the young people of St. Paul's attended as also students of the Theological Seminary. Next Sunday evening the topic for discussion will be: "Inspiration and Consecration," when Mr. Frank Cox, of the Seminary, will be the leader. It is not necessary for one to have a great deal of knowledge on the subject under discussion, nor is it necessary for one to speak, but those who have a thought to express are welcome to expound their theories. All those interested are invited to attend at 6 p. m., tomorrow evening.

A number of the younger set are helping the Red Cross in the annual roll call which commenced today in Alexandria. The drive will continue through Tuesday.

Wrestling Carnival

On Monday night at 8 p. m., Alexandria will witness its first wrestling carnival of the season at the Dreadnaughts' hall, corner King and Washington streets, under the auspices of the Dreadnaught Athletic Club.

Joe Zbysky, of Boston, who gave Joe Turner, of Washington, a great battle at the Capital Theatre Thursday night, will grapple with Paul Turner, a brother of Joe. Young Brooks, welterweight champion of this city, will take on Young Stecker, known as the Nebraska Farmer Boy. All the wrestlers are in the pink of condition, and two of the best bouts ever held in Alexandria are assured. Young Brooks is very confident of keeping the welter championship in Alexandria, but Stecker is a husky chap, and anxious to annex the honor.

A Proclamation by the Governor of Virginia

WHEREAS, Grave danger to life and property from forest fires threatens many communities throughout Virginia as the result of the prolonged drought; and

WHEREAS, Destructive forest fires, started in the last few days are now raging in a number of counties in spite of all the precautions taken against them; now

THEREFORE, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do urgently call upon all the people of Virginia to co-operate with the forest wardens and other local authorities throughout Virginia to prevent forest fires, and to render every assistance possible in extinguishing those which have been started; and I further request all who hunt, camp, tour, or otherwise pass through the woods of Virginia to use every means possible to avoid starting forest fires. Moreover, I ask all operators of sawmills and other industrial plants and the railroads of the State also to take extraordinary precautions to prevent starting forest fires at this time when the fallen dry leaves make the danger extremely great.

Given under my hand, and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth, at Richmond, this twenty-sixth day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, and in the one hundred and forty-sixth year of the Commonwealth.

Westmoreland Davis, Governor.

bones, then strain, and add 2 tablespoonsful of chopped truffles and half a gill of sherry. Put one tablespoonful of this sauce over each quail before sending it to the table, after very carefully draining all grease from the birds. These are served in the papers, but rough cases of paper may be made to bake them in, and the regular crimped ones set in the oven to get hot just before dishing up.

That someone luxuriated in the good things of life thirty-two years ago is evidenced by the notation "delicous" written in a trembly hand on the margin of the following:

Quails a la Jubilee.

Bone as many birds as required. Lard them with pork and thin strips of truffles. Stuff them in shape with equal parts of sweetbreads and oysters, sew them up; roll them in buttered paper, and cook in oven in enough Chablis to cover them. Pound some boiled potatoes and watercresses together until thoroughly blended; put a tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan with one of milk; put in the potato, stir till quite hot; use this to make a border on which to serve the quails. When they have cooked fifteen to twenty minutes, take them up, glaze them by melting glaze in cup of hot water and brushing them over. Lay them on potato border and pour into the center some Spanish sauce with mushrooms in which has been boiled a slice of lemon.

The foregoing appeared of course, in the days when Sherry and Chablis were not written on prescription. I am giving now my way of cooking quail, and while not so elaborate, is plenty good for most of us.

Instead of browning the birds after or during the baking process, take the toothsome little morsels, roll in seasoned flour, and fry brown in lard and butter mixed "50-50". When perfectly brown, but not cooked through, pour in a cup of boiling water, cover with a close fitting lid, and bake until tender, first stuffing the cavities with your favorite oyster dressing. The drippings will make delicious brown gravy, thickened with flour in the usual way.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

LITTLE STORIES OF THE STREET
By The Man About Town

"Can you change this William for me?" asked a flashily dressed youth as he presented a fifty dollar bill to the cashier of the Alexandria National Bank.

"Yes," replied the accommodating cashier as he counted out five tens, "but why do you call it a William?"

"Oh, I'm not familiar enough with that sort of thing to address it with the familiarity implied in the short monosyllable "Bill." replied the visitor as he pocketed his change and made for the door.

A member of the Gazette advertising staff while hurrying up King street was accosted by a stranger who inquired, "Can you tell me how to get to get to Alexandria?"

"You are in Alexandria right now," exclaimed the puzzled Ad man.

"Oh, no!" expostulated the Mysterious Stranger. "I am a hundred miles from there. I am on my way to Richmond and I MUST pass through Alexandria."

"Well, Mister Man, you can travel ten thousand miles and you'll NEVER be any nearer Alexandria than you are at the present moment," snapped the surprised Gazette representative as he hurried on.

"Isn't it funny how they get that way?" the Ad booster asked The Man About Town. "And he looked as if he had the average amount of intelligence, too."

If you run into a husky gentleman with a couple of cauliflower ears and a slight foreign accent you may put it down in your note book that you have encountered Joe Zbysky aspirant to heavyweight wrestling honors Joe tells us he hails from Boston, although his accent smacks of Berlin, and that he has wrestled all over the Pacific Coast. He was just leaving for Atlantic City to stage a contest there with a Philadelphia exponent of the mat game. Joe tackles Paul Turner of Washington at the Dreadnaught Hall on Monday night.

"Young" Brooks a local lightweight grappler undertakes the task of making a monkey out of a youngster calling himself Stecker and claiming relationship with the Nebraska farmer who put the wrestling game on the front page in the wheatbelt. Brooks is a clean cut youngster who looks as if he might make it interesting for any man of his weight. We haven't met Stecker.

A hunting party while in camp found the evenings unduly monotonous. Some one suggested starting a poker game. One of the gentlemen objected to that arrangement on the grounds that he never indulged in the great American indoor sport.

"How is that, Colonel?" questioned one of the group.

"Well sir, I have twenty-one very good reasons for not playing poker. First I have no money."

"Never mind the rest of 'em, shouted the crowd in concert. "That single objection is amply sufficient."

Capt. Geo. H. Evans, well known to every exponent of a Greater Alexandria, was busy at his desk when The Man About Town breezed along in search of information which might interest the readers of this column. "I am getting up some matter to be used in a contemplated advertising campaign," volunteered Mr. Evans waving a hand toward an accumulation of printed and type-written sheets spread before him. "There is a demand for the map of the city which we recently issued and we are thinking of getting out a booklet containing a lot of the historical data which makes Alexandria a Mecca for students of American progress, and inserting a map therein, showing the location of the interesting landmarks."

"The Southern Pacific built its tourist traffic in the southwest around the Alamo," volunteered The Man About Town.

"It did, greatly to the advantage of San Antonio," agreed Captain Evans, "and here in Alexandria we have not one point of national interest from a historical standpoint but literally dozens of points. How many school children know that "Light Horse Harry" Lee was a resident of Alexandria when he made the famous utterance regarding Washington. "First in War, first in peace, and first in the heart's of his countrymen?" How many Alexandrians know where he lived? Oh, there are hundreds of things of this character which we could bring out. This building which houses our Chamber of Commerce, was the first postal sub-station in the United States."

We listened in rapt attention while Captain Evans delved into local history, displaying a knowledge of his subject which made his talk exceedingly instructive and interesting. In fact the luncheon hour came and slipped past unnoticed on our part. Mr. Evans was to dine at the Kiawanis Club and so we regretfully made our departure with a hearty assurance that we expected to remain on the Captain's visiting list.

Ruffner will divulge the secret of his success in this particular line.

Attention may well be called to the herd of pure bred Holsteins owned by Mrs. H. P. Wilson of Hollin Hall Farm. Mrs. Wilson is exerting every effort to develope a nerd of butter type Holsteins without materially lowering the milk average. Hollin Hall is being developed into a farm of the most modern type, and the Drifter predicts that in a few years this farm will be one of the models in the South Atlantic section.

The D. C. Workhouse at Occoquan claims an average of fifty bushels of potatoes per acre. While they do not claim a record with this average, they do claim to have at least made a seed supply for the coming year.

Aileen Stanley, that just-a-little-different song-comedienne, certainly sings "Cry Baby Blues" in a winning manner. "Who'll Be the Next One to Cry Over You" is one of Ernest Hare's best. A sentimental number set to a frivolous tune.

ATTRACTIONS NEXT WEEK IN WASHINGTON

AFTER THE SHOW AT RIALTO

Spanish Love at Poli's

Everyday at Shubert-Garrick

A Photodramatic Offering
"The Night Rose," a new Goldwyn melodrama from the pen of the famous novelist, Leroy Scott, will be the feature at Moore's Rialto Theatre beginning Sunday, the bill being truly a double one in that it will present for the first time in a motion picture theatre in Washington, Creatore, world famous concert-master and band leader, as guest conductor of the Famous Rialto Orchestra, which for the week in question will be increased from its usual number of thirty pieces to forty.
Lon Chaney, who will be remembered for his remarkable characterizations in "The Miracle Man" and "The Penalty," has the leading part in "The Night Rose."

Spanish Love
"Spanish Love," the very unusual drama by Avery Hopwood and Mary Roberts Rinehart, will be the attraction at Poli's next week. The managers were at first of the opinion that a road tour would be impossible until models were made of a porter super-stage, and certain electric devices were contrived, that met and solved all difficulties. The chief novelty of the play lies in the manner of its presentation.

Everyday
A new play by Rachel Crothers, entitled "Everyday," will be presented by Mark H. Kirkpatrick at the Shubert-Garrick Theatre next week.
Rachel Crothers has contributed to the stage such successes as "39 East," "Old Lady 31" and "Nice People." In her new play, it is said, Miss Crothers has selected a subject "in which she expresses some homely truth of universal ken."

Gayety Burlesque
"Harvest Time," the homespun classic in six special scenes, presented by Jean Bedini will be the attraction at the Gayety Theatre next week. Besides a group of singing and dancing celebrities, the cast will include a typical Jean Bedini Beauty Chorus.

Capitol Burlesque
The attraction next week at the Capitol Theatre, beginning Sunday at 3 p. m., will be Joe Oppenheimer's "Miss New York, Jr." With the show came a bevy of Broadway Belles.
